DETAILED ACTION

Terminal Disclaimer

1. The terminal disclaimer filed on 9/11/02 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration is not proper. The patent 5,811,447 has not been disclaimed

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 9/11/2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants have made numerous arguments as to why the instant claims are not obvious over the claims of US patent 5,811,447. The essence of the arguments is that the patent refers to biological stenting whereas the instant claims are generally directed to use of intravascular stent. For instance, applicants argue that the instant claims are directed to a method for maintaining vessel luminal area comprising using an intravascular stent. It may be true that some of the claims of the patent do not specifically recite the use of physical stent. But some of the claim clearly contemplates the use of a physical stent. For example, claim 5 of the patent reads on biologically stenting a blood vessel using a catheter. This claim is used to exemplify that at least some of the claims are rendered obvious by the patent.

"Catheter" is defined in Webster's dictionary as:

: a tubular medical device for insertion into canals, vessels, passageways, or body cavities usually to permit injection or withdrawal of fluids or to keep a passage open

“Stent” is defined in Webster dictionary as: a short narrow metal or plastic tube that is inserted into the lumen of an anatomical vessel (as an artery or a bile duct) especially to keep a formerly blocked passageway open.

The two terms are clearly obvious over one another. Thus at least some of instant claims are obvious variants of the patented claims

The double patenting rejection will be maintained.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 26-104 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-18 of U.S. Patent No. 5,811,447 and US 6,599,928. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the effect of treatment in the claims in the patent and the instant application are substantial similar. There is no patentable difference in the two sets of claims.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
